

"The cast have great voices... the friendship seems real, and the actors exude a joy over spending time together on stage... the poignant moments feel genuine and raw... Irene Karas Loeper does a hilarious job of playing the new age vixen (along the lines of Samantha in Sex and the City)... Talking Sex on Sunday is a stellar show." - Tara Lee, Inside Vancouver.ca

"Grab your girlfriends and run not walk to Talking Sex on Sunday ... features performances from such fierce females as Janet Gigliotti, Jennifer Lines, Sara Vickruck, Irene Karas Loeper , Caitriona Murphy, Katrina Reynolds, and Seana Lee Wood... the characters feel like real women and are facing real issues." - Ashley Cau, Modern Momma.com

"There's a lot to love about Talking Sex on Sunday , from its super talented ensemble to its stigma-busting... The whole ensemble is deeply talented... they truly feel like a tight-knit group of friends." - Andrea Warner, The Georgia Straight

"Talking Sex on Sunday is pure entertainment...the eclectic collection of friends is cleverly contrived... will make you howl with laughter." - Dianne, Fabulously Frugal Vancouver.com

"I love a good musical, Talking Sex On Sunday is definitely that...the performers are uniformly excellent...each are given plenty of moments to shine...everyone on stage is having a blast... you're so committed to these characters... the women of Talking Sex On Sunday will take you on a hell of a ride." - Lillian Jasper, Two Cents Two Pence.com

"Talking Sex on Sunday is a solidly entertaining evening of musical theatre...the cast is uniformly excellent...offers a fun and satisfying night." - Adam Abrams, Vancouver Musicals.com
